

Local Businesses in New Liskeard, ON

New Liskeard has prospects for future growth and economic prosperity based on the economic potential of the Indigenous population, the city's strategic location for transportation and tourism, and its low cost of living.

Economic development indicators allude to growing business and employment opportunities – specifically in management, health, and natural resource-related occupations; transportation is an already prevalent and established industry.

Total Labour Force Participation Rate

Rising employment rates and declining unemployment rates indicate that people who want to work in Temiskaming Shores are increasingly able to find a job.

The city serves as the economic and service center for a population of about 32,500 people drawn from tiny towns across the surrounding area.

Professional services and big shops continue to expand in the area to serve regional consumers from both Ontario and Quebec.

